A screenshot of a web browser window titled "JSA Module - Microsoft Internet Explorer". The browser displays a "JSA Input Form" with a "General Details" section. This section contains various input fields: Organization (Buffalo), Location (Engineering), JSA # (0010), Job Task (Answer Machine Alarms MFG 004), Part #, Equipment #, Date Initiated (5/18/2008), Revision Date, Job Code, Department, and Work Area. Below the form are buttons for "Add Step", "Add Hazardous Detail", "Hazard Type Definitions", and "Hazard Control Suggestions", along with a checked "Active" checkbox. A table with columns for Actions, Step #, Description, Tool, and Chemical is visible. The table has a header row and several data rows, some with "Delete" links. At the bottom of the form, there are tabs for "Updates", "Corrective Actions", "People Involved", "Operators", "Training", and "Files", and a "Save and Close" button.
